We aim to be completely consistent with our pricing, but we are also aware that each case is different and people will always require a bespoke service. Certain prices may vary from the above lists in particular circumstances. We will always keep you fully informed with costs from the outset of your instruction.

The following circumstances may increase the cost of your case:

- Missing or incorrect paperwork that needs to be rectified
- Lack of or slow communication with third parties which means the case takes longer to complete than expected
- Unexpected complexities within the case arise

We will discuss any issues such as these with you and agree the fee for additional work before any extra costs are added to the prior agreed fee.
